

In this new edition, we reveal some of the technical developments - ongoing and to come - designed by our team to improve your user experience.

A survey was sent to you this winter, to give you the opportunity to express yourself and to better understand your expectations as a customer. This survey is still ongoing, and your feedback matters to us. Don't hesitate to take part of it if you haven't already → Answer the survey

Newsletter. May 2025

Make it easier to collect your data

This summer, the integration of your faculty members' intellectual contributions will be simplified:

- Most of our customers now use DOI to import intellectual contributions into their database. It will soon be possible to save even more time, thanks to mass DOI import, which is currently under technical development.
- The development of an IN SCOPUS connector will enable you to collect intellectual contributions directly from SCOPUS, according to a chosen frequency and parameters.

These features will be available with the latest version of ACADEM 6.1.

Improving your experience

Our main objective this year is to improve your experience of using ACADEM.

Our Customer Success and Technical teams are working together to achieve this, rethinking the graphics and navigation of the solution, to make it easier for you to use, with a more modern and consistent look.

Would you like to have your say and be part of this improvement?

Contact us to become a beta tester at customersuccess@rimaone.com

Enhancing our Help Center

New articles and videos continue to be published in our Help Center to help you use the tool.

Discover how to :

- Analyse Intellectual Contributions in your institution
- Analyse your faculty members' qualifications for accreditation applications and renewals
- Create customised reports from your database

Other articles will help you make the most of our solution:

Create new users, import mass data, complete useful data for your AACSB reports, etc.

Consult all available articles by following this → link

You would like to find articles on specific topics ?

Share your ideas and needs with our team by email on customersuccess@rimaone.com

Bibliography: APA is available in V.7

The bibliographic references of your intellectual contributions can now be presented according to the latest APA standards - version 7.

Create a Tasks ticket on Redmine to ask for this update in your solution.

Intellectual contributions: Rankings updated

Two new rankings are available for publication supports in your Redmine space > Documents > Ranking.

- The EJL_2024 ranking for the European institutions
- The VHB_042024 ranking for German, Austrian and Swiss institutions.

For ease of use, the concept of domain has been removed from these two rankings, and a single score (the best) awarded for each journal.

Find our Newsletter and Release notes in your

Redmine space > Documents > Customer Success